“SOARING HIGH IS MY NATURE”

This has been my school motto, which was rooted in me and now is enabling me to flourish and prove it.

I, SUMIRAN PULLAN, a bold introvert, have always had a nature of staying quite, listening and observing everything and everyone around. Such depositions lead its way to the development of my interests in the field of Psychology.

Since, communicating verbally had always been a hardship; the world of writing came to my rescue and made me a conqueress of it. And so here at DEI, I choose to refine my engrossments and opted for the course of Bachelors of Arts with the subjects - Psychology and English; along with the fusion of incorporation of values such as hard & smart work, dignity of labour, selfless service etc.

Along with the inspiration and support from my parents and having received appreciation for my vocal chords, music made its way in my life. Having seen the women of my family into the creativity field specifically work of Textiles and Designing, such came as a blessing to me. Apparently, I have my own dreams and ambitions that I aspire to achieve in the field of NEUROPSYCHOLOGY.

And as they say, “THE SKY IS THE LIMIT”
