Greetings,

I am Runjhun Bhatia. A big Hello to Hong Kong.

I am here to represent Dayalbagh Educational Institute, a deemed University I am an aspirant of Bvoc textile to be an entrepreneur and help society by generating employment for many.

My major subjects are designing, sketching, and I have an artistic approach to things and life.

It has been an amazing stress-free journey of understanding and learning through primary to University.

Not only the studies are given a priority here, social service, games and sports, extra curricular activities are also given same importance, to accomplish the final goal “to become a complete man” by evolving and inculcating the values and qualities of 4 varna’s: namely Kshatriyas, Brahman’s, Vaishya and Shudra.

I love to participate in nukkad-natak’s (street play's), dramas to educate and leave a social message to society at large. I have a keen interest in doing such campaigns, as this is my way of giving back to society.

I am a sports person and play volleyball and badminton, which makes my mind fresh and ready to strive again. I am taught and trained that the best learning group is the peer group so see now I am here in Hong Kong to work n learn together.
