Hi, my name is Sneha Saxena. I'm 18 years old and a student of Dayalbagh Educational Institute (Deemed University) Agra, pursuing my bachelor's degree in the field of psychology with particular interest in music therapy.

As a person, I'm fun loving and an extrovert, I have an optimistic as well as practical approach to life. I value honesty and simplicity is my core. I love to travel, meet new people and gain new life experiences. I have a keen interest in singing both Indian and Western. Sketching particularly doodling and writing short poems are my personal favorite pastimes. Theatre and stage acts intrigue me to know more about the world, its history, its versatilities and much more. I love to venture and try out new things. I have a liking for architectural designs as well and product designing is another field I like to explore

My life's motto is CREATING ONESELF!
